VIRGINIA CONFERENCE,-The Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church streets. met at Waterford, Loudoun county, this week, Rev. S. A. Ball, Presiding E der of the Alexandria District, re-Eder of the Alexandria Dietriot, reported his work, showing there were 31 Sunday schools, with 307 officers and teachers and 2020 scholars, and 14 Epworth Leagues in the district. Rev. S. A. Ball reported two of his preachers had left their work. One was present and after the elder had stated the case to the conference he was allowed to make a statement to the conference after which his character was passed and later during the conference he was located. The case of the other one was referred to the committee on con-

There was preaching in the Methodist Church on Tuesday night by the former pastor. Rev. A. J. Porter, Presiding Elder of Roanoke District, and on Wednesday night there was a significant of the control missionary sermon presented in the same church by Ray. J A. Jeffers of this ci y. The session is said to have been the most interesting ever held by the Virginia Conference.

The conference decided to hold the next session at Eigle Rock, Va.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT .- In the Corporation Court last night the jury in the case of A thur E. Mankin vs. the Southern Railway Company, a suit in which the plaintiff south to recover $2,000 damages for frostbits, while shoveling soow in Prince William county for defendant company, after being out fifteen minutes retained a verdict out fifteen minutes retained a verdice in favor of the company. The plaintiff was represented by attorneys Samuel G. Brent, of this city, and Crandal Mackey, of Washington. The company was represented by Leonard Mauoury, of this city, and Leigh Robinson, of Washington. After the verdic in the Mankin suit had been rendered, upon motion of the plaintiff a similar suit brought by George Cuichester against the Southern Railway was dismissed. Messrs. Brent and Mackey, the counsel for the plaintiffs in a number of other su tagginst the Southern for alleged damages from frostnits, withdrew and the court issued a rule requiring the employment of new counsel. Mankin, it will be remembered, brough suit in Washington against the Southern Railway Company, and was awarded one cent damages.

A SAD CASE.—A pathetic story of pover:y and want was brought to light to Washington yesterday by the arrest of Mrs. Mary Carlos, aged seventy of Mrs. Mary Carlos, aged seventy years, and her daughter, Miss Anna Carlos, twenty-four years old. The mother is now at St. Elizabeth's. The daughter lodged last night at the House of Detention. The condition of Mrs. Carlos and her daughter was most pitiable, when they were found by the police. In a loft over a stable which they reached by a ladder, surrounded by fifth, and with no comforts other than each other's society. Mrs. Carlos and her daughter had lived for months. and her daughter had lived for months. The police believe the mother issane, The police believe the mother insane, while her daughter is seemingly on the verge of a collapse. Miss Carlos etated that she was distantly related to ex-Governor O'Ferrall of Virginia. The mother and daughter lived in Alexandria recently, where they received the attention of the charitably disposed.

house, opposits the Fayette street depot, about twelve o'clock last night. The two men became involved in a row, when Bolden produced a knife and slashed his opponent across the face from one side to the other. Officers Knight and Bettis heard calls for the police and hastened to the scene where they found Williamson bleeding profusely. Dr. Delaney was summoned and he found that while Williamson's wounds were not dangerous, they were of a serious nature. Both men were brought before the Mayor this morning, when Bolden was fined $20, and his honor deeming that Williamson had suffered enough for the part he took in the fight, discharged him.

WIRELESS TELEPHONY .- A practically successful test of wireless telephony was made yesterday on the steamer Bartholdi, off the Virginia bank of the Potomac, opposite Georgetown University. The steamer Bartholdi was equipped with a set of apparatus and cruised up and down the Potomac, while a stationary station on the Virginia shore maintained communication with the vessel. The sounds of a harmonica played on the shore were distinctly heard in the receiver on board the steamer, as was the human voice, both single and counting numerals. An ordinary conversa-tion was less distinct and hardly audible. Communication was held at distances varying from 200 yards to half a mile, and in every instance the tests were eminently successful.

PROSPECTIVE PUMP WORKS .- Sev eral gentlemen formerly connected with the Emerson Steam Pump Works of Baltimore have perfected an apparatus which overcomes all obstacles heretofore encountered in steam pumps, and they are about to produce one which will throw a continuous stream of water for reliaving mines or irrigating water for relieving mines or irrigeting purposes. Patterns are now being made at Curtin & Butts's foundry in this city, and there is every indication that when all arrangements shall have been loompleted the pumps will be manufactured in this city on a large scale. It is believed that between five and six bundred can be disposed of annually.
